U. S. SPEEDS HARBOR AID AT OAKLAND

Signing of Appropriation Bill Releases $400,000 for Dredging Here and for Great State Development Surveys

Depth of Thirty Feet to Admit Mightiest Vessels Assured; Expenditure of Millions on Pacific Coast Is Forecast

Four hundred thousand dollars made available July 1 for dredging Oakland's inner harbor and Sacramento river and for surveys of twelve California harbors which latter will be developed at the cost of millions of dollars, means that work will begin at once on a gigantic scale. Colonel E. E. Winslow, U. S. engineer, declared today on receipt of information that President Wilson had signed the $12,000,000 river and harbors bill.

Besides $200,000 to be expended within the next two years, dredging the Oakland inner harbor to thirty feet in order to admit the greatest cargo freighters afloat and $100,000 for the Sacramento river project, preliminary surveys of Berkeley and Albany harbors, the Klamath river, Lake and San Francisco, Redwood City, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors will begin as soon as the money is available. Commercial bodies of Oakland, Berkeley, Albany, Redwood City and other places, asked by Colonel Winslow to co-operate with him, started collection data for his report today.

Advertisement of the Oakland dredging work will be published soon. The U. S. dredge San Pablo, which has just finished work at the entrance to the local harbor and San Pablo bay, is being overhauled.

GREAT APPROPRIATION SOON SECURED

Joseph E. Canoe, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, said today that the $200,000 was the regular two-year fund allowed the government to continually dig the silt out of the Oakland harbor. Two years ago $160,000 was appropriated. The harbor will be kept thirty feet deep for two or three years due to the tidal current, which is maintained at an eighteen foot depth. Any vessel afoot except dredge boats can thus reach Oakland docks.

Other items contained in the appropriation provide $5,000 for the maintenance of the inspection steamship Suisun in its patrol work of San Francisco bay, and $6,500 for a cut-out and turning basin in Petaluma creek. Petaluma is furnished with enough men to insure this port and the work will be begun as soon as this amount is turned over to the government.

The surveys of such harbors as that of Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Monterey is the opening step toward the appropriation within a few years of millions of dollars for federal work on them.

MARITIME DEVELOPMENT FOR FUTURE FORECAST

Of all the inlets and harbors on the California coast, San Francisco bay ranking as the greatest natural harbor in the world, and San Diego harbor are the only ones of importance. For naval purposes they are the only points which may be considered real harbors.

The possibility that by dredging and other forms of construction, great harbors available alike for warships and merchantmen can be dotted along the coast at Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Monterey, means the greater development of the entire state as a maritime community.

Colonel Winslow pointed out today that California is fortunate in getting practically 1-3 of the $12,000,000 appropriation, when there were fifty districts clamoring for funds, and that the original estimate for all the districts was four times the amount allowed.

Traffic Man Raps Ownership By City

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEAVES CITY TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Municipal ownership is "the worst possible solution of the street car transportation problem," J. H. Farde, president of the American Electric Railway association, declared in an address at the convention of the national electric credit association here yesterday. From the viewpoint of the public, it would be disastrous, he said.

During the last few years, Farde declared, electric railways, meeting competition in motor vehicles, have been handicapped by municipal regulations, while no share of street maintenance taxes were borne by the automobile carriers. The same regulations should apply to both traction lines and motor buses, he said.

He declared that in one state 325,000 street railway passengers had to pay an extra fare in order that 10,000 passengers might enjoy " jitney" service at a lower rate.

Exclusion Petitions Filed at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, June 18.—The first anti-Japanese petitions have been filed with County Clerk Harry Hall, each containing eighty-four names. The petitions were filed by H. T. Rasmussen, an organizer for the California Oriental Exclusion League.

New Batch of Aliens Awaiting Deportation

NEW YORK, June 18.—Eighty-six aliens, half of whom are alleged anarchists, arrived at Ellis Island this morning. Spreading rails was given as the cause for the detainment.

He swat McCaodoo campaign.

At the slogan, "a full beer pail for all."

Mack was not, however, the only moist element in the situation. There were drops of dampness variously apparent. For instance, up rose Theodore A. Bell, representing the California associated wine interests, to announce that a vigorous campaign for modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act will be made before the convention. Bell believes the convention would not ignore anti-prohibition proposals.

THEODORE BELL TO AID WET SUPPORTERS

The fight not only will be made before the committee but before the convention," he said. "I understand a light wine and beer league composed entirely of individuals not interested directly in the grape or liquor business has been formed to press a modification of existing enforcement acts, before both the committee and the convention. I will appear personally before the committee as a representative of the organized grape and wine interests."

Then there was a wife from Fargo, North Dakota, strongly intimating that William Jennings Bryan was on the trail of Bell and his ilk. According to the despatch, Bryan today declared that he was bringing a dry plank and "a prison term for profiteers" plant to the San Francisco convention.

Sitting nonchalantly at the table, with one salt-stocked ankle crossed over the other, the girl acted her own attorney.

"You say that this shirtwaist I am accused of stealing is of no value and that you remarked that anyone could have it if that wanted it," said the girl after Mrs. Evelyn Metzheizer had completed her direct testimony.

"Yes, but I never told you to break into my room and take it, or anything else," retorted Miss Metzheizer, the complaining witness.

"That will be all," said the girl.

Marcel Vassie, clerk at the St. Paul Hotel, next took the stand. The girl favored him with her sweetest smile.

"We seen this young man before, but I don't see what he has to do with the case," said Miss Oakley to the judge.

"Never mind about that. We'll hear what he has to say and then you can talk to the young man if you want to," said the judge.

The girl pouted.

"You didn't see me leave the room that I am accused of breaking into, or break it either, for that matter, did you?" asked the girl.

"No, I only took you down in the elevator that day," replied Vassie.

"That's all from you," returned the girl.

"Do you want to make any argument for the dismissal of your case?" asked the judge after the testimony was all before the court.

"No, think not. I might say, though, that everything I took will be returned to Mrs. Metzheizer, and that I'm sorry I took the things," said the girl.

The report of the probation officer shows that you have been up on burglary charges before, young lady," said the judge.

"There was no reply.

In view of the testimony I will have to hold you to answer for trial, I think a year or so in some institution will do you good," said the judge.

For a moment the girl's eyes filled with tears and she lost something of her debonair demeanor.

"Perhaps it will do me good, judge," she said as a policeman took her by the arm and led her off to the jail.

Mole Pier Trackman, Struck By Train, Dies

His head split when he was struck by a projection of an S. P. electric train while working on the pier leading to the Oakland mole at 10 a. m. today. Manuel Cavalla, 30, was hurried to the Southern Pacific hospital where he died. Cavalla, a track worker, stepped between trains too close to a Berkeley-bound express. C. W. Bier, of 407 Perkins street, said the electric train was going at high speed.

DOO GOY? NOT SURE, FRIENDS SAY, OF RUMORS

Functions Planned for Wives, Husbands Left to Lone Shift

By LAURA BRIDE POWERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—California inherits a tradition of hospitality from her Spanish forbears. It is part of her fibre, and it functions automatically. But—

What has been done to entertain husbands of delegates and alternates and executive committee women?

Surely they cannot be permitted to sit round and talk, and put in their time waiting for Madame to bob in from "corkus" or committee after session. It would never do. San Francisco is a debonair town; it has allures, and husbands must have their minds occupied. So, whose job is it—the men's committee of arrangements or the women's bureau?

GEN. CASTLEMAN COMING.

There is Mrs John D. Castleman on her way from Louisville, Kentucky, associated national committee woman, awaiting her husband, Gen. Castleman. And he is known to be a husband any woman would be proud to bring.

He's a regular upstanding Kentuckian impetuous in love (so his wife avers) and she ought to know) and brave in war. I have from indisputable sources that the coming of the southron is looked for with interest by all the delegates from the sunnier south where the general is one of the best in his end of the world.

WILL REMAIN AT HOME

McAdoo has announced his intention of remaining away from the convention. Governor Cox of Ohio also remains at home, as does E. H. Moore, announced here yesterday. According to Moore, Gov. Cox would consider his presence "undignified."

The arrival of Mrs John D. F. Callahan of Wichita, Kansas, O. H. Moore's wife, is imminent. Husband in this case is being brought in by Mr. Castleman, president of one of Wichita's banks. They were wed on the ninth, and are looked for any day.

MRS. WALSH ARRIVES.

The arrival of Mrs Thomas Walsh of Washington in her private car made the big social splash of the week. She is an ardent Democrat, her millions notwithstanding.

week New York, Ohio and Indiana special trains will follow Michigan, Iowa and New Jersey contingents are also coming by special train.

According to Chairman Cummings' convention program, held just about a week ago, the second, the Civic Auditorium, where the convention will be held, will be turned over to the Democratic hosts early next week with all alterations completed. Nearly as many delegates are already on hand here as has been the case in other convention cities three days before the opening day.

They don't seem to have appealed to her progress, especially toward a sympathetic understanding of the needs of her fellowmen. She is today the hostess of Vice-President Marshall's party at Del Monte, where the group is taking in the scenic drives, and are much thrilled at the places of historic interest that make up the Monterey peninsula, the Shasta of California.

I am wondering if our attitude toward our Old Missions. They are going to see San Juan Bautista in ruins, and beautiful Carmel, where Junipero Serra is sepulchred. Someone will tell them that Benito Mayebek, who made friends with the world when he designed the Palace of Fine Arts at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has the receiver in charge.

Mr. Walsh will be in San Francisco in a few days, and is expected to be a guest at the luncheon that the Women's Democratic club of Alameda county is giving at the Hotel Oakland on the twenty-sixth. It will be remembered that Mrs. Walsh and her daughter, Mrs. Edward McLean, wife of the Washington newspaper publisher, and incidentally, possessor of the famous Hope diamond, that is said to play diamonds with human affairs—saved thousands of Belgian babies from the rigors of war winters, and otherwise helped a lot to lift the burdens of the heavy-laden during the dark year.

Another husband who will have to be looked after by the husbands' Entertainment Committee will be Congressman J. C. Cantrell of Oklahoma, "Kenyan" Wonder Husband. These big-grossing cavaliers! Mrs. Cantrell is an associate national committee woman, and Father is coming on to keep her company. This new regime is full of surprises.

"CABINET" IS WORRIED.

If you don't believe that men are worried about the women element in the political game, just watch the "Cabinet," the "invisible government" that has set in a lunch together for a quarter century at the southeast corner of the Palm Garden of the Palace hotel. You'll find judges and doctors and nervous candidates and wise old bosses hobnobbing together, guessing and guessing again. And they look worried.

"Who can guess what our seventh sense is going to whisper to us? We don't know ourselves until circumstances happen that sets the thing in motion," said one of the brilliant Chicago women at headquarters today. "We reason the situation out by our own devices processes made circuitous by the artifices women have had to practice down the ages to win their points, and then it jumps this seventh sense that was thusly developed. And there you are. We've decided. So there's no way yet to figure."

According to Chairman Cummings' convention program, held just about a week ago, the second, the Civic Auditorium, where the convention will be held, will be turned over to the Democratic hosts early next week with all alterations completed. Nearly as many delegates are already on hand here as has been the case in other convention cities three days before the opening day.

Accorded the right to speak at the meeting were the women of some one man could be easily affected and then pass his word along the administration line. It is believed to be the plan that will be pursued. In that event, the Presidential decision will be known to but a few of the delegates.

The Executive Committee of the convention is being passed on June 25. One week from today.

WILSON TO PLAY NO FAVORITES, IS TIP TO LOBBIES

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Wilson has taken the offensive for his policies at the start of the presidential campaign, cabinet officers and administration senators said here today.

In Wilson's statement in the New York Tribune, Wilson said they had proposed for legislation for women in industry and for child welfare to be brought before the convention according to plans announced at the woman's bureau.

The Democratic women declare that they are determined to insert a plank in the platform which will mean improved conditions for women and children, and that they will welcome suggestions from the public.

Should the Democrats at San Francisco pussyfoot on the league, Wilson's last card hangs over them the possibility of his candidacy for a third term.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—A series of sudden shifts in belief as to what is going to happen at the big convention were noticeable today after despatches from Washington had been received at the convention headquarters.

That Wilson will let the convention run to its point, where the nomination of some one man could be easily affected and then pass his word along the administration line, is believed to be the plan that will be pursued. In that event, the Presidential decision will be known to but a few of the delegates.

The Executive Committee of the convention is being passed on June 25. One week from today.

Women Will Demand Plank for Child Welfare Colorado Delegates Claim "Palmer's the Man"

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The first formal meeting of the Democratic committee of arrangements was held at the auditorium today. As Miss Mary E. Foy, associate national committee woman for California, has not yet arrived from Los Angeles, the duty of representing the women's interests at the meeting falls upon Mrs. George Bass, the only other woman member.

Proposed for legislation for women in industry and for child welfare to be brought before the convention according to plans announced at the woman's bureau.

In Wilson's statement in the New York Tribune, Wilson said they had proposed for legislation for women in industry and for child welfare

to be brought before the convention according to plans announced at the woman's bureau.

These breakfasts will be sponsored by the California women's delegation.

John T. Barrett of Colorado, arriving today, headed a small delegation which included eight women, the largest number of women proportionately on any delegation.

Barnett said that the women of his delegation were sincere, conservative, and patriotic, having had suffrage for twenty-eight years.

When asked what he thought about women as delegates—whether they would vote as a unit or would vote as individuals—he said that he could only speak of his own delegation—that they were not likely to be hysterical—because of the fact that the vote was not new to them.

The Colorado delegation includes Mrs. Helen L. Griffith, one of the most distinguished women of the state. Barnett said that the women of delegation were all for Palmer.

PICKETING IN DOUBT.

From all sides came questions yesterday regarding the picketing of the convention by militant suffragists. Gossip had it that Miss Alice Paul, fresh from her picketing experience at the Republican convention, had left New York for San Francisco and would confer the same attention upon the Democratic delegation.

Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the executive committee of the women's bureau of the Democratic national convention, in answer to the questions, declared that if Miss Paul would undertake the job no one would stop her unless the police of San Francisco did so—but that such conduct on the part of Miss Paul would be unnecessary and stupid.

She added to the uncertainty surrounding the convention.

It could not force Louisiana, for instance, to ratify the suffrage amendment for reasons Louisiana considered sufficient, but that the Republican party could have forced the state of the Republic to do the same.

WOMEN IN MOVIES.

The first series of Democratic women were taken yesterday on the roof of the Palace hotel, in which the woman's bureau has its headquarters.

In the party filmed were Mrs. Mass, Mrs. Maud Kain Taylor of Illinois, Mrs. Charles Boeschenstein, wife of the Illinois national committeeman; Mrs. Frank Graham of Chicago; Mrs. Robert L. Owen, wife of the Oklahoma senator, whose husband is in the ring; Mrs. McG. Gandy, of the Mitchell-Palmer press bureau; Mrs. Mary Marshall Wiley, chairman of the platform committee of the State Women's Democratic club; Mrs. George Mara, whose husband is assistant to Homer Cummings, chairman of the national committee, Mrs. John Troy of Alaska; Mrs. Mary Holland Kinkaid, director of publicity for the woman's bureau, and Miss Anna L. Baker.

IT'S OPEN FIGHT; ONLY 11 STATES ARE INSTRUCTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Statistics prepared by the Democratic national committee show that the great body of delegates has not yet arrived from the various states listed in the committee's sheet only eleven are sending instructed delegates to the convention. None of these is instructed for President Wilson.

The instructed delegates follow: Oklahoma, 20 delegates, instructed for Owen; Iowa, 26, for Meredith; North Dakota, 10, for Gerard; North Carolina, 24, for Simmons; Nebraska, 16, for Hitchcock; New Jersey, 23, for Edwards; Ohio, 48, for Cox; Kentucky, 26, for Cox; Pennsylvania, 76, for Palmer; Virginia, 24, for Glass; Oregon, 10, for McAdoo.

Reports from the various states list many of the uninstructed delegates as favoring one candidate or another, but they are free to do as they please at the convention.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

N. FRANCISCO, June 18—and of William G. McAdoo seriously doubted the authenticity of a report circulated here that former head of the United States treasury had sent a verbal request to western delegates not to vote for him.

While Mr. McAdoo has made time and time again that he is not a candidate for the Presidency, but very much the authentic one, his report," declared Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago, one of the active workers here in behalf of McAdoo boom.

There is Mrs. John D. Castleman on her way from Louisville, Kentucky, associated national committee woman, awaiting her husband, Gen. Castleman. And he is known to be a husband any woman would be proud to bring.

He's a regular upstanding Kentuckian impetuous in love (so his wife avers) and brave in war. I have from indisputable sources that the coming of the southron is looked for with interest by all the delegates from the sunnier south where the general is one of the best in his end of the world.

WILL REMAIN AT HOME

McAdoo has announced his intention of remaining away from the convention. Governor Cox of Ohio also remains at home, as does E. H. Moore, announced here yesterday. According to Moore, Gov. Cox would consider his presence "undignified."

The arrival of Mrs. John D. F. Callahan of Wichita, Kansas, O. H. Moore's wife, is imminent. Husband in this case is being brought in by Mr. Castleman, president of one of Wichita's banks. They were wed on the ninth, and are looked for any day.

MRS. WALSH ARRIVES.

The arrival of Mrs Thomas Walsh of Washington in her private car made the big social splash of the week. She is an ardent Democrat, her millions notwithstanding.

week New York, Ohio and Indiana special trains will follow Michigan, Iowa and New Jersey contingents are also coming by special train.

According to Chairman Cummings' convention program, held just about a week ago, the second, the Civic Auditorium, where the convention will be held, will be turned over to the Democratic hosts early next week with all alterations completed. Nearly as many delegates are already on hand here as has been the case in other convention cities three days before the opening day.

THE TRUTH

is that shoe prices next Fall will be about as usual, that some whole-salers are overstocked and many retailers are overstocked and have temporarily resorted to the price-cutting method to reduce their stocks. We have $35,000 too much stock and our sale prices are surely moving the shoes out. A few of our lines are already broken, but we have hundreds of others from which to choose.

104 NEW POSTS IN CITY SCHOOLS

One hundred and four new teaching positions will be created in the Oakland public schools as the result of the action of the Board of Education which last night adopted the salary budget for 1920-21, submitted by the finance and budget committee.

Thirty-eight new places will be in the high schools, 35 in junior high and neighborhood schools, 28 in the elementary schools and 3 in kindergartens. The total increase is eight less than the increase forced for last year.

Lloyd D. Barzee, secretary, said today, however, that the additions probably will not be sufficient to cover the increased enrollment for the second semester and additional positions will have to be created later, possibly in the middle of the school year in view of the great increase in enrollment.

The police have the burglar's own statement for this fact. From the house of Mrs. McDuffie which was robbed Wednesday afternoon, were taken jewelry, currency and clothing.

For the second time, the burglar telephoned to Mrs. Hawkins last night, this time to "see if you get those field glasses back in good condition." Again he was in a talkative mood and in a conversation with Mrs. Hawkins lasting for a full half hour told her more of his methods and of the troubles of a burglar's life.

The "McDuffie job," he said, was big enough that he feels it is all that it was worth while to come up from Los Angeles. In his first conversation he told Mrs. Hawkins that "the pickin's are tough up here and I guess I'll have to go back South." Last night he said that he was in "good circumstances."

Twenty-seven candidates passed the recent examinations for policeman in the police department and were included in the new eligible list posted this morning by Secretary Frank Colburn of the Civil Service Commission. The names of five were withheld because they failed to meet character requirements.

Because of the small number of names on the list, another examination must be called, according to Colburn, if the fifty additional places recently created by the council and the seven regular existing vacancies are to be filled.

The new eligible list is as follows:

Charles A. Appeldorn Jr., 88.4 percent; Walter E. Bales, 86.5; Charles S. Rogers, 85.8; William J. Hughes

Collier, admitted burglarizing the Carlyle Club, 708 Willow street, on April 12; Antone Vargas pleaded guilty to grand larceny in snatching a handbag from Mary Jacobucci on March 27.

Charles A. Appeldorn Jr., 88.4 percent; Walter E. Bales, 86.5; Charles S. Rogers, 85.8; William J. Hughes

Collier, admitted burglarizing the Carlyle Club, 708 Willow street, on April 12; Antone Vargas pleaded guilty to grand larceny in snatching a handbag from Mary Jacobucci on March 27.

GERMAN NOBLE FLEES ASYLUM

Twenty-seven candidates passed the recent examinations for policeman in the police department and were included in the new eligible list posted this morning by Secretary Frank Colburn of the Civil Service Commission. The names of five were withheld because they failed to meet character requirements.

SCHOOL BUILDING BIDS ARE UNDER PRICE EXPECTED

Steps towards the first actual construction on the new schools provided under the $5,000,000 bond issue were taken last evening by the Board of Education with the opening of bids for work on the Piedmont avenue and Santa Fe schools. It is expected that the contracts for the two jobs will be let next week and construction commenced early in July.

The bids received were referred to the office of the district attorney for a legal opinion as to form and legality, and a special meeting of the joint building program and bond expenditure committee, with the board finance committee, was called for Saturday afternoon in the headquarters of the construction department in the Emerson building, at which time the bids will be compared with the specifications.

BID SATISFY BOARD

The bids, which were the first received for any of the new school construction jobs, were declined by chief of construction Marston Campbell to be lower than was expected and should prove satisfactory to the board.

The Piedmont avenue school improvements, to cost $25,000, provide alterations in the present buildings that will provide for the enlargement of the school auditorium to double its present seating capacity, the enlargement of offices, library and teachers' rest and lunch rooms, and additional facilities for sewing, cooking, general sciences and physical training.

PROCEDURE CHANGED

The work on the Santa Fe elementary school will cost $50,000 and will result in the addition of six new classrooms. The construction will include concrete walls and interior construction of wood, in conformity with the rest of the building.

During the discussion of the improvements, the board passed a resolution laid before them by Director J. Lorain Pease, providing that the firm which submitted the lowest bid after the building program and bond expenditure committee on the consideration of all bids for the new school work.

TOO MUCH 'JOY' DELAYS WEDDING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Arrangements are being made for the wedding of J. L. McCarthy, Los Angeles broker, and Miss Elsie Lee of 704 Bush street, were postponed today after McCarthy had been taken from the Hotel Manx, suffering from alcoholism and was placed in St. Joseph's hospital to recover from the effects of a "joy-party indulged in with a couple of young women who he alleges bilked him of $200.

McCarthy arrived at the Manx in and drowsed 22300 with the cashier. A few days later he is said to have entertained two fashionably dressed young women and during the celebration drew out the $2300. When he woke up in his room and found the $2300 and his valuables gone, he raised a disturbance which led to his being placed in the hospital.

McCarthy is 25 years old and a member of the Ogdensburg, N. Y., Lodge of Elks. San Francisco Elks are aiding him.

State Osteopaths Have Eastbay Day

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Today was Eastbay day at the nineteenth annual convention of the California Osteopathic Association convention. Four of the principal speeches were made by Oakland and Berkeley doctors.

Dr. F. A. Lucy, Oakland, discussed "Practical Aids to Treatment"; Dr. Sylvia Boyce, Berkeley, talked of the "Methods of Development in Osteopathy"; Dr. Roland F. Robie, Oakland, spoke on "The Antecedents of Osteopathy" and Dr. H. E. Penland, Berkeley, was the fourth speaker.

Yesterday's program was devoted to discussion of surgical work.

Says High Winds Will Increase Fire Risk

High winds and fair weather will greatly increase the fire hazard over the weekend, declares United States District Forecaster E. A. Beals. He warns against starting blazes in forests, grain fields or vacant lots.

There will also be a rise in temperature. Warmer weather throughout California will be attended by northerly winds.

The recent rain will now be followed by an extended dry spell, in the opinion of the forecaster.

BIG FIRE IN HAVANA

Havana, June 18.—Losses estimated at $1,200,000 were caused by a fire which destroyed the plant of the Santiago Electric Light, Railway and Power company early yesterday, according to a report despatch from that city. Virtually all the rolling stock and electrical supplies of the company were burned.

School Budget, Providing For Pay Increases, Passed

Providing for an increase of $260,690 to take care of automatic increases and salaries for additional positions recommended, the salary budget for the Oakland public schools system was adopted by the Board of Education last evening, after a recommendation by the department finance and budget committee. The budget calls for total expenditures of $2,605,428 for the schools and administrative buildings.

In a report accompanying the recommendation, the committee pointed out that the salary estimates submitted provide for three items of increase, the automatic and contractual increase, as provided under the present salary schedule, additional positions to meet a rate of growth equal to that of last year, and additional positions made mandatory by the new law providing free high school text-books for the part-time continuation school law.

NO SALARY INCREASES

No salary increases, as contemplated by the new salary schedule asked for in the present teachers' campaign and approved by the Board of Education on May 17, were included in the new schedule presented.

Data were also submitted by the committee showing that a saving of between $125,000 and $300,000 a year is effected to the local departments by the fact that the Oakland teachers are carrying an additional burden of enrollment. The comparative table presented by the committee showed an average of pupils per teacher of 33.3 in Oakland, against a general average in seventeen Eastern cities of 32.9, and a general average in sixteen Western cities of 29.

When the vote was taken on the adoption of the budget, Director J. Lorain Pease registered his objection to salary increases granted the supervising storekeeper and supervising janitor from $2,200 a year to $2,700 a year in the first instance and from $2,100 a year to $2,500 a year in the second case. Commissioner W. J. Bacus, an ex-officio member of the board, was excused from voting at his own request after he explained that he did not feel justified in voting because of lack of familiarity with the budget.

The work on the Santa Fe elementary school will cost $50,000 and will result in the addition of six new classrooms. The construction will include concrete walls and interior construction of wood, in conformity with the rest of the building.

TOO MUCH 'JOY' DELAYS WEDDING

Because the jury believed that Mrs. Gertrude Sutherland, Alameda store keeper, could not have shot herself in the back of the neck, it returned a verdict of "guilty" in the trial of William Jenson, charged with her murder, before Judge D. S. Church. Jenson declared that Mrs. Sutherland shot herself and that he had fled to the hills of San Leandro in terror. In her dying statement, however, the woman accused Jenson and the prosecution pointed out that she could not very well have shot herself in the back of the neck.

Sentence will be pronounced on Jenson for second degree murder next Monday. After Jenson had been arrested his mother died. The jury disagreed on the first trial. Jenson was Jenson's sweetheart and he killed her in jealous rage, it was shown.

MY HEART AND HUSBAND

by ADELE JARDINSON OF A WIFE.

WHAT MRS. STOCKBRIDGE'S RELATIVES TOLD ALICE HOLCOMBE

The sound of their voices left me, but I had heard quite enough. I had hard work to keep my knees from sinking with my weight as I realized that not only was Kenneth Stockbridge's name being coupled with the cause of Alice's death, but that his mother, who was working with him, was being mentioned odiously in the same connection.

Early as it was when I reached the school house Alice Holcombe was before me. As I turned into the flower-bordered walk leading to the buildings I saw her fitting her key into the door. I called to her and her troubled face brightened perceptibly as she turned and saw me. She finished unlocking the door, threw it open, then hurried down the walk toward me.

"To come so early! We'll have the place to ourselves, and I've so much to tell you. The doors won't be officially opened for the teachers for a half-hour yet, and the janitor is over in the other building."

"Are you sure you're fit to be here at all?" I asked solicitously. "You don't look as if you had slept much."

The comment was not idle one. Her skin was pallid, lifeless, while her eyes, though burning with excitement, seemed to have receded far back into her head.

"Sleep," she explained mournfully. "I do believe I shall never know what real sleep means again, I think, counting every minute that I must have dozed fitfully about three-quarters of an hour last night. And even those poor snatches held such terrible dreams—"

A FRANK TALK

She broke off abruptly, shuddering. I began to wonder nervously whether she was about to break down completely, leaving me with the Bayview school affairs depending on me alone, when she pulled herself together.

"Don't worry," she said crisply. "I'm not going to pieces. Kenneth Stockbridge needs the best efforts of every friend he has. Did you hear any comment on your way down?"

She had unlocked the door of the principal's office, entered, and thrown up the window as she talked. At the last sentence, abruptly separated from the others, she turned to me with a searching look. I flushed, hesitated, then took a firm grip upon my common sense.

"I am going to tell you exactly what I heard," I said, "in the very words that were used. You may draw your own conclusions."

I repeated the vulgar comments I had heard at the railroad station. Alice Holcombe listened frowningly.

"That's just it," she said, as I finished with the apprehensive words of the woman who had chided her escort for his outspokenness, "but they are all willing to damn an innocent man with the most speculations. And they're all talking. The village is sizes with it. I heard a lot of it on my way over this morning."

"Mere talk won't hurt anything ... his feelings," I commented banally enough, but I was really at my wits' end for the right thing to say in the peculiar situation. Alice was so sensitively alert to any comment which could possibly be construed as unfavorable to Mr. Stockbridge that my conversational way was hard to pick.

"If it was only talk!" she retorted. "But Millie's family are doing more than talk. They got permission to take her body to their home last night, after the coroner had taken a look around, but they did not ask Kenneth there, and he spent the night at his own house—imagine!"

"THEY TOLD ME—"

"Are you sure?" I asked, startled, for that state of affairs looked like serious trouble.

"They told me themselves."

"Why? When did you see them? It was almost 1 o'clock when we left you at your door."

"I know it, but Millie's sister had left a message for me to come directly to the house as soon as I reached there, of course. I was Millie's as well as her husband's oldest friend, but it looks to me as if there was something more than that in their minds when they asked me over—as if they were trying to make sure that I would be on their side instead of his in any controversy which might come up."

"What did they say to you?" I asked, to avoid commenting upon the conclusion which she had drawn and with which I scarcely agreed.

"They said enough!" The careless phrasing was unlike Alice Holcombe, as was the vindictiveness with which she spoke, but I knew that the girl was hardly responsible for anything she might say, so terrible was the strain which she was undergoing.

The principal information they handed out," she went on, "was the precious story that Kenneth had come to them between five and half-past yesterday in a terrible rage, saying he must have a divorce from Millie."

It was upon my lips to say that I did not doubt the statement of Millie Stockbridge's family to the effect that her husband had threatened to divorce her but an hour before she was found dead.

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1920.

MEXICO'S POLICY.

President Adolfo de la Huerta of Mexico, head of the new revolutionary regime, has announced a very important article of his policy as the temporary chief executive of the neighboring republic to the south. Foreigners as well as Mexicans will be interested in it. It is the most sensible utterance that has come from a Mexican official in a long time.

In the first place, President De la Huerta says an invitation will be extended to the expatriates from Mexico to return and help build up the country. They and their assistance will be welcomed cordially, he says, with the qualification that those who have charges of crime standing against them will be brought to trial.

This pronouncement does credit to the new Mexican government, because it is an indication that those who head it recognize the inherent ability possessed by those men of Mexico banished by Madero and Carranza. Among them were the best citizens in Mexico as judged by standards of intellect, education and statesmanship. The great offense of practically all of them was that they had belonged to the administration of Porfirio Diaz. They were refugees from the pogrom against the inteligencia.

President De la Huerta's announcement, made at the taking of the oath of office, included the following:

"I wish the Mexican public to know I do not assume the office to serve the interest of any political party. It is my fundamental plan to see that all candidates for public posts, that all political groups and that all citizens enjoy on equal footing the guarantees provided by law. The same spirit of serenity, conciliation and harmony which inspired the revolutionary movement will form the basis of my conduct as provisional president."

"From an international viewpoint I will strengthen the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and good faith."

Justice seems to be subject to many and elusive interpretations in these times, but the determination to base the future foreign policy of Mexico on international law and good faith is a noteworthy forward step. It is all that other nations have a right to ask of Mexico, all that they will venture to ask.

Brazil, the largest of the Latin American powers and one of the members of the famous A. B. C. conference at Niagara Falls, which attempted to bring about political tranquility in Mexico at the time President Wilson was pressing his vindictive campaign against President Huerta, has recognized the provisional government of the new regime. Brazil is the first, a privilege that ought to have fallen to the United States, but which has been neglected.

If the government at Washington insists upon being the last to perform an urgent act of service in the comity of nations, the other nations of Latin America and the great powers of Europe ought to follow Brazil's example at once.

SOME DISSATISFACTION.

In a commendable desire to get along somehow without the cooperation of the United States the League of Nations is attempting to function. It has held several sessions since its organization eight months ago and taken up the consideration of several weighty questions. Twenty-two belligerent states have signed and ratified the treaty and the thirteen countries neutral during the war which were invited to join the League have done so. This makes a group of nations which ought to accomplish much in close association.

But there are disappointments concerning some of the acts, or rather lack of acts, of the council of the League—the executive steering committee. During the past few days the council, sitting in London, has been considering what to do in reference to the request of Persia to be protected from the invasion of the Bolshevik armies of Russia. This appeal was reasonable, and in conformity with the promises made by the framers of the League and written in article 10 of the League covenant, Persia had every reason to expect compliance.

There is vexatious delay, however. The council has put the matter over until it receives further information regarding the real status and purpose of the invading Bolshevik forces. An outburst of anger has been exhibited by the English press, notably Lord Northcliffe's organ, the London Times. The League council is derisively described as a farce.

Other countries will certainly show a little more caution against hasty judgments. Perhaps if the British member of the Council could have had his way immediate action for the protection of Persia against infringement of her sovereignty and territory would have been ordered. But apparently the other members dissented, and until evidence to the contrary is forthcoming it ought to be assumed that the British member also may have hesitated to approve aggressive action without complete information.

In the meantime the Bolsheviks are perhaps preparing their invasion of Persia and creating much havoc with the peace, comfort and property of the invaded people. The Allies neglected to protect Russia against the German Bolshevik plot and as a consequence there is in parts of Russia a force that is not on speaking terms with the League of Nations and the Allied governments. The devices which the League framers had hoped would be effective in the first stages of a threatened dispute—argument, investigation, arbitration and threats—cannot be employed if one side of the controversy will not listen.

HAWAII—A PROBLEM.

In conformity with a request from the Hawaiian delegates to the Republican convention at Chicago, the following plank was included in the party platform:

"For Hawaii, we recommend Federal assistance in Americanizing and educating their greatly-disproportionate foreign population; home rule and the rehabilitation of the Hawaiian race."

Home rule was what the Hawaiians stressed in their requests before the platform committee. They represented the growing idea in Hawaii that the people of those Islands should be permitted greater liberty in controlling local affairs. In the discussions of this subject during the past year there have been strong arguments to the effect that the United States was a bandicop to the desire to regulate immigration, the privileges of aliens in the Islands and the school system.

Meanwhile, however, the Hawaiians request, and have been assured that under given circumstances the request will be granted, federal assistance in Americanizing the foreign population and in the rehabilitation of the native race. Both purposes are highly commendable. What can be done to rehabilitate the vanishing Hawaiian race is not clear, but certainly everything possible should be done.

The report of Lenin's assassination has been made a great many times, but the news is of the same character as that which Mark Twain complained of—exaggerated. There would be no outcry if its accuracy could be demonstrated beyond question.

The Democrats may be missing a point in not having Colonel House on hand to deliver the keynote. His well-known silence would have specially qualified him for the job, so far as we can be impartially judged at this time.

The Kansas City Star wonders what Mr. Bryan and others who seem to be in favor of a platform consisting of prohibition planks, with economic and political matters serving as bunting draped around the corners, what they think the Supreme Court did its last month's work for.

Clerkships and menial jobs generally may go begging, but 163 men are endeavoring to qualify by civil service examination for janitorships in San Francisco. Showing how different some things are from what they were.

Grave diggers across the bay demanded $6 a day, a boost of $1, and got it. If the stock question, "Can you beat it?" comes in here, the answer is that the only way is to put off dying.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The sum of $2000 will be expended by the Board of Supervisors in placing road signs in Contra Costa county. William Tudor, representing the California State Automobile Association, appeared before the board and asked that the association be permitted to place the signs. The association takes complete charge of the work of erecting the signs and stands one-half of the expense—Bay Point News.

All children born in Hawaii are, until formal expatriation, citizens of the United States, possessing the privilege of suffrage. The bureau of education found that from 1898 to 1909, there were 12,216 births of Japanese male children. After due deduction on account of the death rate, 10,628 Japanese children will become voters between 1918 and 1930. There were 287 such voters in 1919, which makes 10,919 the expected Japanese vote of 1930. By 1940 there will be 30,857 Japanese voters, as compared with a total vote of all other racial groups, including the natives, of 31,907.

In other words it will require the perfect consolidation of the voting strength of all non-Japanese groups to prevent Japanese domination of the Hawaiian Islands by 1940. The Bureau of education considered only the serious problem this holds for the school system. But there are other aspects—as to the economic and political and social life of the islands.

It is obvious that whether or not home rule is extended to Hawaii, there ought to be very large and effective assistance from the government and people of the United States in the program to Americanize the alien elements in Hawaii and to rehabilitate the native races. There will be many vexations and it would not be quite fair to shunt them all upon the Hawaiians when the Hawaiians have become helpless to dispense them.

The promptness and certainty with which General Leonard Wood initiated Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler into the Ananias Club certainly did credit to the political heirship of the late Theodore Roosevelt, which has been claimed for General Wood.

NOTES and COMMENT

Cattlemen are nonplussed over the phenomenon of leather selling at the same high figure which it brought with hides fetching 30 cents a pound, now that hides have dropped to 13 cents a pound. There is some encouragement that such a mystery will be solved when those who feel that they are not getting their share of the increment undertake the solution.

Douglas Fairbanks' latest hit, "The Mollycoddle," is understood to have nothing whatever to do with a certain Nevada incident. If attempts were made to show that it has he might be able to show that his actions in that connection prove that he isn't.

The return of the Lowden slush money by the two St. Louis delegates may evince perturbed consciences, but the whole matter has some earmarks of having been engineered. It appears to have been potent in preventing a presidential nomination at least.

A delegation from a noted apple country handed out a supply during the Chicago convention in characteristic hospitality. No other offerings of fruit were reported, though some of the California representatives seem to feel that they were handed a lemon.

An interesting story is that about the War Department refusing to accept the testimony of a soldier who insisted that he was not dead. The records of the department show that he is dead, but against that evidence the oral testimony of the soldier himself is held to be incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A description of a display of men's styles in clothing, put on in New York, is to the effect that the garments are fashioned on "soberlines." As the eighteenth amendment is in full force the fashion is at least law-abiding.

Considering his performance during and since the Republican convention, manifested in part through his personally picked delegation, the operation performed by the celebrated Dr. Mayo on Senator LaFollette immediately preceding the convention does not appear to have been on the gall sack.

The report of Lenin's assassination has been made a great many times, but the news is of the same character as that which Mark Twain complained of—exaggerated. There would be no outcry if its accuracy could be demonstrated beyond question.

San Francisco policemen are waking to the fact that revision upward is necessary in their dress regulations if they are not to be held at a big disadvantage by thugs and burglars. They are clamoring for shorter coats, declaring that bandits and burglars have escaped in many instances because long coats hindered the policemen from quickly drawing their revolvers. It is asserted that several officers have been killed because of their long coats, which made them slow in drawing.

THE LAST CHANCE

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Baths for the Eyes—What To Use and How to Use It

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSCHBERG,
 A. B., M. A., M. D.
 (Johns Hopkins University.)

In the twinkling of an eye much may happen. You may photograph upon the film of the retina a photo-drama of reality, indelibly stamped for life upon the formative parchment of your tissues. At that same interval and fragment of time a speck of dirt, a scratchy bacillus or two, a sharp cut by the wind and worse may happen to the eyeball and its covering—the cornea.

To avoid these dangers, to keep a pair of healthy eyes, each newborn babe, the instant it lightly draws its first breath, must have two drops of a 1 per cent. silver nitrate solution dropped into each orb and thereafter have frequent washings with boric acid water.

For the daily care of the eyes there should be two baths. The skin must have its cleansing. So must the face. Especially as the eye, with its thick lid and the fringe of eyelashes, a dust trap and the slightest speck of dust allowed to remain beneath the lid may cause irritation of the lid and allow the ever present germs to cause inflammation of the eye.

A teaspoonful of a mixture of boric acid and 10 ounces of pure rosewater should be applied with an eye-cup. Turn the eye-cup upside down so that the half-open eye is completely washed by the contents of the cup. Hold it thus for 30 seconds, or, if not uncomfortable, for a full minute. Throw away this rosewater, rinse the glass and give the eye a second bath.

If the eyes are unduly irritated, the bath can be repeated several times. Ordinarily a bath in the morning on rising and another at night on retiring are enough.

Some who have beautiful eyes prefer elder-flower water to rosewater. It is equally good and should be applied in the same way.

Another excellent eye-bath is made of one-half an ounce of witch hazel and one-half an ounce of distilled water. Shake well in bottle and apply with an eye-cup. Most excellent for strengthening the eye is six grains of boric acid in one wine-glass of distilled water.

A bath in borax water is highly beneficial and has the advantage of being always convenient. Even while traveling, you may always use it.

You can pour as much boracite—also called boracite—acid into water as you please, yet it will only form a 4 per cent solution—that is, only 4 per cent of it will be absorbed by water.

A boracite bath is very strengthening. If the eyes are delicate or the person so prejudiced against experiments that he is not willing to introduce this substance directly into the eyes, a silk handkerchief or a soft cloth dipped into boracite water and pressed upon the eyelids is both efficacious and soothing.

Know anything at all about the cost of provostions?"

"Only that which I have learned from the talk of others."

"Well, young man, my advice to you is to make a trip of investigation. I don't know what your present income is, but after you've learned for yourself just what those clothes she wears are costing me, if you come back and say that you can support her in the style to which she has been accustomed lately, I'll give my consent."—Detroit Free Press

DEATH CHEATS WILL ROGERS OF SON, AGED 2

LOS ANGELES, June 18—(United Press)—Death drove all the merry wit and laughter out of the home of Will Rogers, humorist and actor, today.

Frederick, Rogers two-year-old son, lay in the parlor dead.

Jimmy, aged 6, and Ellis, 8, who have themselves been seen rolicking with "Dad" on the movie screen, occupied adjoining cots in the nursery nearby, a physician sitting between the two fighting to keep the boys from joining Freddie in the front room.

A diphtheria sign hung on the front door.

Rogers wandered about the house, doing his best to keep some semblance of cheer behind the drawn curtains. He had arrived home from Sacramento too late to see Freddie before death came.

"My other two boys are very low, so please don't ask me anything," was all he would say.

A leave of absence of four months was granted Patrolman Lester Manning to allow him fully to recuperate from injuries received in a motorcycle accident several months ago. The leave was granted without pay after Manning withdrew an application for temporary retirement.

BAIL CUT TO AID VICTIM OF AUTO

BALL OF Lloyd Guphill, 708 South Elmhurst Avenue, who is charged with running down 3-year-old Milo King three weeks ago and speeding away without rendering the lad aid, was reduced from $1000 to $750 by Police Judge George Samuels this morning in order that Guphill might turn over $250 to the injured boy's parents to cover doctor and hospital expenses.

The case was called for trial some set over until June 28, after some of the testimony had been taken.

The suggestion to reduce the bail in order that Guphill might pay hospital costs was made by Guphill himself, who was commanded by Judge Samuels for his action.

The accident occurred at Thirtysixth Avenue and East Fourteenth Street. After the boy was run down he was placed on a garbage can and later another motorist took the injured boy to his home and left him on the front porch.

"The Alumni Committee finds that but one member of the fraternity was present at the beginning of the gathering, and that one other member returned to the house during the evening and remained while the affair was in progress."

"All of the remaining members of the fraternity had returned to their homes at the close of the college term, and had no knowledge of the occurrence. No members of the fraternity have ever previously been guilty of participation in any similar incident at the chapter house in the entire history of the fraternity, and any indecorous conduct there at which women guests have been present is entirely at variance with all of the traditions of the fraternity, and the newspaper accounts of the recent occurrence came as a shock to all of the alumni and to all of the members of the active chapter except the two men present."

It is expected the cases of the two offending members will be summarily and appropriately dealt with as soon as the active chapter can hold a meeting upon the reassembling of its members at the beginning of the fall term.

SCHOLARSHIP STANDING

"The Alumni Committee claims that serious injustice has been done to the scholarship and standing of the fraternity by recent published statements to the effect that, with the exception of two Dekes graduating in 1919, no Dekke has been in a graduating class for seven years."

"It is claimed that the records of the university show that since the founding of the chapter in 1876 there have been but two years in which the chapter did not graduate a man, and that usually a large proportion have graduated."

"That no Dekke graduated in 1920 is explained by the circumstance that at the time the United States entered the war three of the chapter had enlisted in the French army. The entire remainder of the chapter

'Deke' Men Not Leaders in Riotous Party, Say Alumni

The first of several investigations of the recent dancing party of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at the University of California, which led to the expulsion of two members of the fraternity and two other students, has been completed by the California Alumni Council of the fraternity. The national board of the Delta Kappa Epsilon is yet to act.

The California Council disclaims fraternal responsibility for the party, and denies that the academic standing of the organization has been discreditible. Its statement follows:

OUTSIDERS LED PARTY

"The California Alumni Committee of the Deke fraternity has investigated the recent vacation party at the Berkeley fraternity house which caused President Barron to request some of those who were present not to return to the university at the beginning of the fall term."

"The Alumni Committee finds that but one member of the fraternity was present at the beginning of the gathering, and that one other member returned to the house during the evening and remained while the affair was in progress."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Additional evidence, tending to implicate Eddie Golden and John de Vries, state board of pharmacy inspectors, in a "drug conspiracy" to cheat, have been given him by a high government official. I. M. Golden, assistant district attorney, said today:

In addition to the testimony by Sam Moran, confessed drug peddler, who alleges that De Vries and Coret took drugs from peddlers who they arrested and cached it in a Webster-street "dive," Golden said other drug sellers had volunteered equally large amounts for the public welfare. Mrs. H. L. Allen, of 1939 Ellis Street, told of hearing the inspectors prowling around back of her place.

The state board of pharmacy has asked the grand jury to inquire into the charge, but refused to suspend the inspectors pending the outcome.

HUSBAND ADMITS LOVING ANOTHER

Admissions by Owen G. Stanley, civil engineer, that he entertained an affection for another woman whom he had taken to restaurants, public baths, and passed Christmas with, have caused a sensation. Mr. Salles of Stanley, 5511 Telegraph, avers that Stanley agrees to give his wife $50 a month alimony and $60 a month for the support of two sons, Olen, 11, and Randolph, aged 9.

Mrs. Stanley declared her husband had been treating her coldly for some time. She said she understood this attitude after he had been seen on the street with another woman, and that when she accused him he admitted there was another woman. She left him. The wife's testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Carol McDaniel, a sister.

U.S. Expenses in 11
Months 20 Billions

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Government expenditures from July 1, 1919, to May 31, 1920, amounted to $20,755,533,588, according to a statement last night of the treasury.

Expenditures were heaviest in September, when $1,475,937,701 was spent and lightest in November, when $611,301,764 left the treasury.

A meeting of the Draymen's Association was held last night, but no action was taken. Hart said his state, however, that the employers are standing pat and that none has met demands of the strikers.

The teamsters are to meet this evening.

The first direct move to oppose the teamsters' strike for a $1 a day increase is to be taken at 10 a.m. tomorrow, when Bastard business men, manufacturers and employees will hold a mass meeting in the office of the Starchers' Exchange.

It is expected that an effort will be made to agree on a plan to operate trucks and relieve freight congestion. Whether this plan will call for an open shop declaration or not E. M. Hart, secretary of the Draymen's Association, said today, he could not predict.

There is a desire on the part of some of the members of the association to declare an open shop.

Robert E. Murray, president of the Teamsters' Union, says he does not fear such action, because it would involve affiliated unions on both sides of the bay.

Calomel salutes! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

O. HENRY Story a day

Ulysses and the Dogman

Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

Do you mean the time of the dogmen? When the forefinger of twilight begins to dim the clear, taut lines of the cliff-dwelling Indians inaugurated an hour devoted to one of the most melancholy sights of urban life.

Out from the towering flat crags and apartment houses of the cliff dwellings New York steals an army of beings that were once men, yet they go upright upon two limbs and retain man's form and speech; but you will observe that they are behind schedule in progress. Each of these being follows a dog, to which he is fastened by an artificial ligament.

These men are all victims to Circe. Not willing, they become henchmen to Fido, hell-bent boys, all of whom tattered after "lower" Modern Circe, instead of turning them into animals, has kindly left the difference of a six-cent lead between them. Every one of the dogmen has been either coaxed, bribed, or commanded by his own particular Circe to take the dogmen's pet out for an airing. By his looks and manner you can tell that these men are hopelessly en-habituated. Never will there come a dog-catcher Ulysses to remove the spell.

The race of dogs are steadily set. They are the tools of the commissioners of curiosity, or the Jeers of their fellow-citizens. Years of matrimony, of continuous compulsory canine constitutionals, have made them callous. They would rather be married to the dogmen, or the emasculated legs of profane pedophiles, with the stupidity of mandarins manipulating the strings of their kites.

Others, more recently reduced to the ranks of Rover's retinue, take their medicine sulkily and fiercely. They play the dog on the end of their line with the pleasure felt by the girl who wears the scorpion on her seal-ring in her hook.

The glarers look at them threateningly if they look at them as it would be their delight to let slip the dogs of war. These are the dogmen, not quite Circe-like, and you may do well not to kick their charges, should they sniff around your ankles.

Others, the tribe do not seem to be so friendly. They are mostly unclean, jaded, worn, gold-dusted, drooping cigarette smokers who do not harmonize with their dogs. The animals they attend wear satin bows in their collars, and the young men steer them so judiciously that they are tempted to the theory that some personal advantage, contingent upon satisfactory service, waits upon the execution of their duties.

These thus personally conducted are of many varieties, but they are one in faithless, in pampered, diseased illness of temper, in insolent, snarling capriciousness of behavior. They talk about dogs frantically, they make leisurely, noisy, invasions of every door step, railing and post. They sit down to rest when they choose; they wheeze like the winner of a race, averaging break-eating contests, the lungs suddenly into open bellows and coal holes. They lead the dogmen a merry dance.

These unfortunate dry nurses of dogmen, the cul culiciferous mongrel masters, the oil-sellers, the bootblowers, Skye scrapers, dachshund dandiers, terrier trailers and Pomeranian pushers of the cliff-dwelling Circes follow their charges monthly. The dogmen are the last resort of the Masters of the house, those whom they hold in leash may be, but they are not masters of them. From cozy corner to fire-escape, from divan to dining-table, doggy's snarl easily drives this twy-legged beast, who is commissioned to walk at the other end of his string during his outing.

One twilight the dogmen came forth as usual at their Circes' pleading, growling, growling, growling. Who among them was a strong enough, apparently of too solid virtues for this airy vocation. His expression was melancholy, his mouth was puffed out. He was a son of a white dog, a thin-skinned, fat, originally natured, glistening, intractable toward his despised conductor.

At the corner nearest to his apartment, the dogman turned down a side street, heading for home, witnesses to his ignominy. The surfeited beast waddled before him, panting with spleen and the labor of motion.

Suddenly the dog stopped. A tall broad-shouldered, dark-haired bruiser man stood like a Colossus blocking the sidewalk and declaring:

"Well, I'm a son of a gun!"

"Jim Berry" breathed the dogman, with undiminished growling in his voice.

"Sam Telfair," said Wide-Brim again, "you ding-basted old willya-wallow, give us your hoof!"

Their hands clasped in the brief greeting of the West, that is death to the hand-spike, crook,

"You old fat rascal!" continued Wide-Brim with a wrinkled brown smile. "It's been five years since I saw you, boy, but I'm a weak, but you can find nobody else in place. Well, you ding-old married man, how are they coming?"

Something mushy and heavily soft like raisin dough leaned against Jim's lip, and the dogman turned his trousers with a yeasty growl.

"Get to work," said Jim, "and explain this yard-wide hydrophobia yearning that you directed your lads over there? Are you the papa-mama of this burg? Do you call that a dog or what?"

"I need a drink," said the dogman, leaning at the remains of his old dog of the sea "one on."

Hard by was a cafe. "Tis ever so in the big city."

WARNING AGAINST PLAQUE ISSUED

GALVESTON, Texas, June 18.—The death of a seventeen-year-old youth here after a brief illness, probably was due to bubonic plague, according to a diagnosis made public tonight by Dr. M. F. Boyd, professor of bacteriology at the State Medical college. At a conference today, health officers were concurring in the federal, state, county and city health officers. An immediate effort for the extermination of rats and mice was decided upon.

VERA CRUZ, June 18.—One case of bubonic plague was reported yesterday and none today. A "chamber of extinction" has been organized.

warning to citizens against the possibility of an outbreak of bubonic plague in California was issued today by the state board of health.

"Investigations conducted by the board in cooperation with the United States public health service have resulted in the discovery of a marked increase in the number of plague-infected ground squirrels in the central coast counties and upper San Joaquin valley," said the report.

The appearance of fatal cases in Galveston, Tex., yesterday, the presence of many fatal cases in Mexican ports and in Florida during the present months, emphasizes the great possibility of an outbreak in California."

Arguing that the Communist Labor party was neither a labor party nor a political party, in that it accepted as members anyone over the age of 18 years no matter what their affiliation, District Attorney A. Rogers today addressed the jury in an effort to obtain the conviction of John C. Taylor on the charge of criminal syndicalism. The case is expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Rogers declared that the Communist Labor party did not require members to belong to any union, that it was in favor of accepting the American Federation of Labor because it worked along legitimate and lawful lines. He then pointed out that Taylor had admitted he once belonged to the I. W. W. and that the declaration of Edward R. Alverson that Taylor favored a forced seizure of the local government showed that he believed in mass action, which violated law.

That the efforts of Taylor to slander the character of Inspector Fenton Thompson and claim a conspiracy by the police and certain interests to persecute him was not proved, but simply made to prejudice the jury against bringing a verdict on the facts, was the further declaration of Rogers.

In opening his argument Rogers paid a glowing tribute to his colleague, Earl Warren, in which he stated that Warren had stated the facts clear and fairly in his opening argument. He predicted a brilliant career for Warren as a prosecutor.

Uncle Ed was telling me he knew a little Greek and was writing credit for being quite a linguist till I found he meant the Little Greek that runs a shoe shine parlour down at the corner.

Judge J. J. Trabucco also ordered Valenza to pay $75 attorney fees and $25 for preliminary costs.

Chaplin Has Nothing on Him When It Comes to Real Falls

Harry Porter, housecleaner, residing at 830 Pine street, went to a movie and saw Charlie Chaplin run down an alley in which there were many banana peels. Charlie fell twenty times, and each time he lost something. Porter, who always did like Charlie, had a good laugh gathered up his several bundles of groceries and started homeward. He walked down Franklin street.

And here is the rest of the story, as told by Porter himself to a TRIBUNE reporter over the telephone:

"I was going along when I stepped on a banana peeling myself and lost four bits worth of sugar. Sugar is pretty high now and that was bad enough, but besides I broke my false teeth. I threw my teeth away, gathered up the rest of my things and went back home. Then I heard something else and hit the pavement again. This time I turned my knee and broke my seventeen jewel watch."

"Now there ought to be something done about that street. They ought to be made to pick up banana peelings so people won't fall over them. Ain't there something you can do about giving this a write-up in the paper?"

And that is the story of a man who paid real money to see Charlie do, what he himself could do better.

KEARNS SAYS NEXT MOVE IS UP TO GEORGES CARPENTIER

CLYDE WARES' BOYS ARE TRYING HARD TO RENT THE BASEMENT OF P. C. L. TO OUR OAKS

DEMPSEY READY TO PROVE HE IS REAL FIGHTING CHAMPION

If Carpenter Does Not Sign Shortly, Jack Will Let Yank Heavies Sign for Crown

By BOB SHAND

The sooner the gentleman cow is tied outside and the managers of Georges Carpenter get down to business the better J. Dempsey and J. Kearns will be pleased. Kearns, the managerial end of the firm is not in a mood to be bothered with million dollar offers for the big fight and he is not going to waste any time corresponding with oil promoters and mining speculators who are looking for free advertising. Jack knows as well as anyone that there are but three promoters big enough to handle the fight and he is going to get down to business with them as soon as Monsieur Carpenter evinces a desire to do battle. The gentleman cow had a wonderful frolic a few months ago when Carpenter licked Beckett and challenged Dempsey, he roamed all over the land and it was a mighty sleepy village that did not stick in a bid for the bout. Now Kearns wants the livestock kept out of the picture to make room for Mr. Yusfil Currency. The recent trial across the bay set the champ, and his manager back an even $100,000 and they are out to recuperate financially.

Kearns prefers to believe that Carpenter is going to back out of the fight. Georges' actions in booking passage for that dear Paris about the time that a Federal court and federal commission decided the Dempsey case record to be a dead loss looks suspicious, says Jack. It was understood that Carpenter came to this country to box for the heavy weight champion and he has done so, but now he is going home loaded down with some beautiful samples of American dough, his seventy-five of suits, fifty overcoats, 100 pairs of socks and other valuable articles of clothing without having demonstrated his fighting ability. The Levinsky match was, of course, a blust to bolster up the circus receipts and it set the public's imagination off the layout now looks to be Georges in Europe frantically challenging Dempsey to battle and daring him to come across the border. The British have been watching with Dempsey here watching Kearns shoot sarcastic cablegrams across the briny.

Big Fight May Be Staged in London

Kearns admits there is a possibility of the big fuss being staged in London. He has received a general offer from British promoters and undoubtedly responsible, and he is giving it serious considerations. The British syndicate with Tex Rickard and Jim Coffey behind it, are the ones. Other of smaller caliber will horn in with more or less phoniness offers but the three mentioned are the only ones. Dempsey and Kearns will be watching each other's movements in the way of ring work for the champion until Carpenter either signs articles or it is proved that he does not want any of Dempsey's money. The British would be mighty bluffing Kearns will lose no time in lining up some battles for the champion with the present crop of home grown heavyweights. It is terrible crowd at the Fulton. Fulton's audience would draw big money while the Brannans and Levinskys and that sort would provide a little small change to help pay the pences. ... The only ones left to get the pennies are the ones. Carpenter and nobody knows that better than the pair of Jacks.

Jack's Nof Afraid of English Decision

"Where do you think the fight will be staged? Is it water asked Kearns in his home on Perry street. "That I can't say," replied Jack, "but a British syndicate has made a mighty nice offer." The fight that is due to be fought on Saturday is a chance of a good chance of the fight being staged across the Atlantic."

Yes, there is a chance," said Kearns, "but of course the American promoters will be asked to bid and if Carpenter is willing to accept one of their offers all well and good. All we want is to get the Frenchman in the ring."

"You're not afraid of the English referees and the English decisions are you, Jack?" Dempsey was asked.

"Not a wit," chirped the champ, "they can all count up to ten." "Tut," continued Dempsey, "I am itching for a fight. I said what I said to the press that I could not fight the champion and I am going to make good if Carpenter will not box me within a reasonable time I am going on the warpath and every good weight in this town will be given weight to the title. The movie game is all right in a way but I would rather fight fiftyights than pose in front of a camera for fifty minutes."

Will Head East After Trip to the South

The pair of Jacks left for Los Angeles last night where Dempsey will pose for some "stills" to be used in connection with his serial story. They expect to make a flying trip back to New York, go to Paris and then head east to consult with Carpenter's representatives and the promoters.

Athletic Carnival Planned By Four Bay City Shipyards

The athletic committees of the four shipyards comprising the Bay Cities are planning an athletic carnival at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, June 29. At the noon hour in each of the yards the top-of-the-line teams will be pitted against each other in a grand show. The program will start promptly at 6 o'clock with an exhibition of Indian baseball between a picked team from the Alameda Terminal, the Bremenian, and a picked team from the Union Construction company and the Moore Shipbuilding company. This will be followed by two contests of boxing, wrestling and strong man exhibitions. Music will be furnished by three bands.

Coursing Entries

Following are the entries for the coursing trials at Emeryville Park tomorrow afternoon.

GLOVED BURGLAR GETS $300 LOOT IN NIGHT RAID

The burglar who operates with the half-inch "jimmy" and who has been making a drive on jewelry in widely varied parts of the East Bay district scored again yesterday when he broke into the home of Mrs. Mary Strook, 3701 Mariposa Avenue, and stole property valued at $300.

The burglar entered the home during the absence of the family. Entrance was made through a side window, which was pried open with a "jimmy" that left marks on the sill identical with impressions left on the window sills of numerous other homes which have been raided by the jewel burglar.

The loot taken last night includes three valuable pieces—a large diamond lavaliere, a diamond scarf pin valued at $200 and two ruby rings.

Inspector Frank Nells, who has been detailed on the case, reports that there are no fingerprints to be found in the house and thinks that the burglar wore silk gloves.

Foulds' Estate Given In Excess of $1000

John Evans Foulds, veteran legal counsel for the Southern Pacific company, who died last Monday after an illness of several weeks, left an estate valued in excess of $10,000, according to petition filed yesterday seeking probate of his will. Evans had a son, John, 1561 Le Roy street, Berkeley, filed the petition. He was named as executor of his father's will and also appointed guardian of his mother's person and estate.

The widow is Mrs. Mary A. Foulds, residing at the family home, 211 Bancroft way, Berkeley. The property is divided equally between three children.

Poison Charge Made Divorce Plea Basis

That his mother-in-law falsely accused him of trying to poison his wife with Chinese herbs and made his statement in the charges made by Otto Schipak in his divorce suit filed against Mrs. Ada May Schipak. His wife also told others that he was trying to get her property, Schipak says, while he only asked her to purchase a home for them. These statements made to others has hurt his reputation, the husband affirms and has resulted in causing him much worry and mental suffering. They were married in Oakland on September 4, 1919.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Fire Prevention

At the weekly luncheon of the Oakland Rotary Club yesterday Jay W. Stevens, manager of the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Pacific, was the principal speaker. He told of methods of fire prevention employed in cities of the coast. His remarks were illustrated by lantern slides. Harry Anderson outlined the plans of the entertainment committee for the coming year.

Hunter Renews Attack Upon 'Spoils' System in Schools

A statement issued several days ago by Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of schools, charging attempts by politicians to obtain a grip on the school department through the appointment of teachers, caused a renewal at last night's meeting of the board of the dissension that developed two weeks ago over the system followed in the appointment of teachers in the Oakland schools.

The board session was about to adjourn when Director Fred A. Campbell took the floor and said that Hunter's explanation of his statement that Hunt and county politicians had tried to secure political domination of the department by the reversion to the patronage or "spoils" system in the appointment of the teaching force.

"I'm tired of all of the innuendo that's going around over this question," said Campbell, and demanded that Hunter give the names of those who were striving to build a political machine in the department.

"I have no apology to offer to the board for the statement I issued," replied Hunter. "I consider that the public has a right to know the facts in connection with the ridiculous charges made by Campbell two weeks ago, and my stand in reply to those charges is that I expected abuse when I attacked the people who are interested and all who know Alameda county politics are aware of who was referred to in my statement."

"The real issue is not the residence or non-resident of teachers selected for the Oakland schools, but whether or not the spoils system, with its attendant political machinery, is to replace the present merit system and preferred list plan I'll leave it to the people who have at heart the interests of the 40,000 school children of Oakland."

The statement by the superintendent practically closed the issue, for the board adjourned while Campbell was in the midst of a reply in which he pointed out that he wanted it understood that he was opposed to political bosses and the spoils system.

The disagreement between Hunter and Campbell arose two weeks ago when the director attacked the preferred lists submitted by Hunter on the ground that California teachers should be given that preference in appointments. At that time Hunter explained the merit system and preferred list plan, pointing out that the great majority of teachers were from this vicinity but some were rejected because they were not qualified.

Following his plea for the upholding of the merit system, the older members of the board, with the exception of Campbell, were vigorous in their support of Hunter and voted acceptance of the lists and support of the system. Anticipating a reversal of the agitation Hunter several days ago issued a press statement attributing attacks on the system to political influences anxious to build up political patronage machine in the department.

Teamsters' Throat Is Slashed in Fight

John Weeks, teamster, 686 Twenty-fourth Avenue, was found at 1:45 a. m. last night with a gash in his throat. Don Douglas, also a teamster, 2220 Telegraph Avenue, took the unconscious man to the emergency hospital, where it was found that while dangerously slashed, the man will recover.

Weeks said that he and another teamster named McEvine had quarreled and fought over a private matter. The police are searching for McEvine.

What Delay May Mean to Owners of Small Cars

The present demand for Goodyear Tires in the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes exceeds anything in our experience, and is steadily showing increase.

Not even our operation of the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes allows us to guarantee to supply all needs for them this year.

We counsel you to buy Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes now, for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, as delay may mean disappointment later.

The safest means to enjoy true Goodyear mileage and economy on your car this summer is to visit your Goodyear Service Station Dealer today.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $2350

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $2150

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $450

MOTORCYCLIST IS DEAD FOLLOWING CRASH AT TRACK

Motorcycle racing cost sixteen year old Oregon Shiman his life

Losing control of his motorcycle while practicing for a race at the track at Eighteen Mile Woods, starting last night, the lad was hurled several hundred feet. He suffered a fractured skull, lingered unconscious through the night and at 7:35 this morning died without regaining consciousness.

He was going at the rate of sixty miles an hour when the accident occurred, bystanders say.

The lad was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shiman. Shiman is in the service for the Western Pacific Railroad.

What was the specific cause of the accident is not known. The lad was racing around the track when suddenly his motorcycle failed to make a turn and left the track. With the terrific momentum of his high speed the boy and the motorcycle rolled over and over for several hundred feet. The accident occurred at 7:30, as the lad was changing to die. The theory has been advanced that the lad was unable to see the track ahead clearly and so lost control of the machine.

The injured boy was taken to

THIS LANDLORD BARS COUPLES IF CHILDLESS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 18.—Walter P. Fulkerston, St. Joseph banker, is building a row of houses for rent for families in which there are children. Only married couples will be allowed to occupy the houses with the provision that if there are no children in their families at the end of one year's residence, they will be asked to vacate.

Inland Waterways to Cut H. C. L. Is Claim

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—Development of inland waterways will go far towards reducing the living cost by increasing transportation facilities, according to James E. Smith of this city, chairman of the waterways division of the Mississippi River Association, who today spoke before the convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in session here.

Reckless Mariner Saved From Death

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 18.—Bound for San Francisco in an open 18 foot navy launch, H. Portensen, of Bremerton, Washington, was wrecked near here and has just been saved by Westport life savers as he was about to drown. Portensen said he expected to make the journey to San Francisco all the way in his launch.
